

PREPARE TO BE FLOORED.

Rustic White Oak

Light tan to golden brown with textured mill marks.

Rustic grade white oak contains hints of the original milling marks from the sawmill, it's usually straight grained, but can often be irregular, or cross grained. The sapwood has a light tan to yellow-brown color. White oak has been widely used throughout history as a cornerstone wood for most any application and is the wood of choice for barrel cooperage for distilleries throughout history.
